

Human Resources: Long-term Disability

If your disability continues beyond six months and you continue to qualify for benefits, long-term disability benefits will begin. This benefit provides continued income of 60% of your annual base salary. Your benefits are paid until you recover or until the time period indicated in the schedule below, whichever is earlier. You may also supplement your reduced long-term disability benefits with accrued vacation time.

Age at Disability	Duration of Benefits
Age 62 and Under	42 months, or up to Age 65 if later
63	36 months
64	30 months
65	24 months
66	21 months
67	18 months
68	15 months
69 and over*	12 months
