

Human Resources: Linda Morse-Porteous Award

Description

A memorial award, established by John Porteous, recognizing a female technician (non-exempt Departmental Assistants or exempt Technical Staff) who has demonstrated "leadership skills, dedication to and quality of work, abilities as a role model and/or mentor for junior women, and involvement in the WHOI community."

» Previous Recipients

Nominations

The Women's Committee facilitates the selection process for the Linda Morse-Porteous Award. Nominations for the Linda Morse-Porteous Award, complete with justifications, should be submitted to the Women's Committee. The selection committee will then meet to select the recipient in advance of the Employee Recognition Celebration. Additional details about the award selection process, including the due date for this year's nominations, are available from the Linda Morse-Porteous Award page on the Women's Committee site.

» More Information on the Linda Morse-Porteous Award from the Women's Committee Website

Last updated: November 3, 2014

Copyright ©2007 Woods Hole Oceanographic Institution, All Rights Reserved.

Mail: Woods Hole Oceanographic Institution, 266 Woods Hole Road, Woods Hole, MA 02543, USA.

E-Contact: info@whoi.edu; press relations: media@whoi.edu, tel. (508) 457-2000

Problems or questions about the site, please contact webdev@whoi.edu