

Human Resources: Foreign Nationals

International scientific exchange is important to oceanography providing opportunities for interactions between the world's scientists, access to data around the globe, and literature and theories developed within diverse cultures. There are currently close to 200 foreign nationals at the Institution adding to this process of scientific exchange.

Employment Opportunities

If you are interested in working at the Institution, please check out the current openings for:

- » Scientific and Postdoctoral Positions
- » Engineering Positions
- » Research Positions
- » Information Systems Positions
- » Facilities Positions
- » Administrative Positions
- » Marine Positions
- » Current Employees

More Information if Accepted for a Position

- » News & Events
- » Pre-Arrival Information
- » During Your Stay
- » Travel & Departures
- » Information for WHOI Sponsors
- » Contact Information & Additional Resources
- » Forms

More Information About WHOI's International Community

- » International Committee

Last updated: April 10, 2014

Copyright ©2007 Woods Hole Oceanographic Institution, All Rights Reserved.

Mail: Woods Hole Oceanographic Institution, 266 Woods Hole Road, Woods Hole, MA 02543, USA.

E-Contact: info@whoi.edu; press relations: media@whoi.edu, tel. (508) 457-2000

Problems or questions about the site, please contact webdev@whoi.edu