

Beaufort Gyre Exploration Project: Dispatch 18: Sunday dinner

Steve Lambert, WHOI
August 19, 2012

It was a beautiful day near Tuktoyaktuk and I was invited to dinner with Captain McNeill. After a relaxing Sunday enjoying the warm weather and sunshine I met up with our host and my fellow guests for a great dinner. Meals aboard the LSSL are quite good but dinner today was sure to be a special treat. A full 5 course meal complete with salad, appetizer, first course, main course, and dessert. We had a good mix of officers and scientists for dinner and we talked a lot about music, history of the ship, travel, and so on. And I think everyone enjoyed my story about parking the motorcycle in the living room. The ten of us really had a nice evening and it was a great opportunity to get to know everyone a bit better.

Last updated: September 23, 2014

Related Multimedia

August 19 photos

» View Slideshow

Copyright ©2007 Woods Hole Oceanographic Institution, All Rights Reserved.

Mail: Woods Hole Oceanographic Institution, 266 Woods Hole Road, Woods Hole, MA 02543, USA.

E-Contact: info@whoi.edu; press relations: media@whoi.edu, tel. (508) 457-2000

Problems or questions about the site, please contact webdev@whoi.edu