

ATTENTION MEDICARE
RECIPIENTS AND CAREGIVERS:

The next open enrollment for Medicare D is about to begin!

Are you a Medicare recipient, or the caregiver/advisor for parents or other loved ones who are on Medicare? If so, here's an important alert: the next open enrollment period for Medicare D begins on November 15 and ends on December 31, 2006.

For anyone who is on Medicare, and who missed the initial sign-up for a Medicare D prescription plan, this open enrollment period is a chance to "get on board." For those who did choose a plan but haven't been satisfied with it, it's an opportunity to reassess and change plans.

Still uncertain or confused about Medicare D? If so, you're not alone!

Medicare D went into effect almost a year ago, but many people are still confused by all the jargon that was supposed to explain it! Many still don't understand it, can't figure out if they need it, and don't know how to choose a plan that's "right" for their prescription needs.

Let WFB help!

- As your work-life benefit company, we want to help you understand Medicare options and choices for yourself and those you care for.
- We also want to help you take advantage of opportunities that can be important to your own and your loved ones' lifestyle and wellbeing.
- So if you need clear, concise information about Medicare D, call WFB to speak to a counselor. Or visit WFB's web site, My Life Values at www.wfbenefits.com and locate our Medicare D link, which helps explain Medicare D in "plain speak".

Remember, there is never a charge to consult with a WFB counselor or use WFB's My Life Values web site. During this Medicare D open enrollment period – and all the time – we're here to help you!